The farmer and his wife were about to sit down to a cold supper when they saw some old friends driving towards the house.

The good wife was equal to the occasion—thanks to her New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

CARRIE NATION DIES

Carrie Nation, known as the Kansas saloon smashed, died at her home in Leavenworth, Kas., yesterday. She was born in 1846, and for the past thirty years has been leading riots and agaitations against saloons. It is not likely that any of her followers will take up the trail where she left off. A specular American character passes with her death.

Mr. J. N J. Dodder, the night watchman at Sparks met with a serious accident last night at the city hall while cleaning an automatic revolver. The weapon was accidentally discharged, the ball entering the body near the hip and coming out below the keen. Mr. Plodder is doing as well as could be expected.
